Home-Town Resident Achieves Rank of Police Lieutenant

Oakdale, CA – After completing a comprehensive recruitment process, the Oakdale Police Department is pleased to announce the promotion of Andrew Stever to the rank of Police Lieutenant. Lieutenant Stever began his law enforcement career at the age of 17 as a Police Explorer with the Oakdale Police Department. Lieutenant Stever has since served in a variety of roles with the Oakdale Police Department including Community Service Officer, Police Officer, Range Master, Drug Recognition Expert, Motor Officer, Detective, K9 handler, and Sergeant.

Lieutenant Stever was born and raised in Oakdale where he attended and graduated from Oakdale High School. Lieutenant Stever is proud to be serving the community that he has always called home.

Lieutenant Stever married his high school sweetheart and they are expecting their 5th child. During his off time, he enjoys duck hunting, rafting on the Stanislaus River, and spending time with his family.

“Lieutenant Stever brings a vast amount of knowledge of our community and our department to his new role,” said Chief of Police Jerry Ramar. “He is an asset to Oakdale and the Oakdale Police Department. It is nice to see someone with the devotion that Lieutenant Stever has for the City of Oakdale and his community, serve in this capacity.”
